

• The transfer of Delco Electronics (Delco), the automotive electronics subsidiary of Hughes, from Hughes to GM's Delphi Automotive Systems and a reallocation of the derivative interest in the earnings of Delco currently held by Class H common stockholders to holders of \$1- $\frac{2}{3}$ par value common stock; and

• The recapitalization of Class H common stock into a tracking stock linked to the telecommunications and space business of Hughes. GM would continue to own 100% of Hughes, which would hold and operate its existing telecommunications and space business.

The distribution of stock in the Hughes defense business to holders of GM Class H and \$1- $\frac{2}{3}$ par value common stock would be in a ratio that would be determined by GM's Board of Directors to be fair to both classes of stockholders and would reflect: (1) a pro rata spin-off of the Hughes defense business to holders of GM Class H and \$1- $\frac{2}{3}$ par value Class H common stock; (2) a partial reallocation of the Hughes defense business from holders of GM \$1- $\frac{2}{3}$ par value common stock to holders of Class H common stock in exchange for the derivative interest in the earnings of Delco currently held by the Class H stockholders; and (3) other effects and factors relating to the planned transactions. Such a distribution ratio will be set by GM's Board of Directors at a time closer to GM's distribution of the solicitation statement/prospectus pursuant to which GM stockholders will be asked to approve the transactions.

The planned transactions are subject to approval by holders of GM \$1- $\frac{2}{3}$ par value and Class H common stock. In addition, the merger of the Hughes defense business with Raytheon, which is contingent upon the spin-off of the Hughes defense business, is subject to approval by the stockholders of Raytheon. The planned transactions also are subject to a variety of regulatory approvals and actions, including anti-trust clearance and receipt of rulings by the Internal Revenue Service that the spin-off of the Hughes defense business would be tax-free to GM and its stockholders.

The spin-off is not being proposed in a manner that would result in a recapitalization of Class H common stock into \$1- $\frac{2}{3}$ par value common stock at a 120% exchange ratio, as currently provided for under certain circumstances in GM's Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended.

No assurances can be given that the above transactions will be completed; however, management of GM and Hughes and GM's Board of Directors expect to solicit stockholder approval during late 1997, after certain conditions are satisfied.

GM Has Two Classes of Common Stock

This annual report is prepared for the benefit of holders of General Motors Corporation ("GM") Class H common stock. GM has two classes of common stock, Class H (ticker symbol GMH) and $1-2/3 par value (ticker symbol GM). Holders of Class H common stock have no direct rights in the equity or assets of Hughes Electronics Corporation (Hughes), but rather have rights in the equity and assets of GM, which includes 100 percent of the stock of Hughes. For purposes of determining the approximate earnings per share attributable to Class H common stock for financial reporting purposes, an investor may divide the quarterly Hughes earnings allocated to Class H common stock (the Available Separate Consolidated Net Income of Hughes) by the weighted-average number of shares of Class H common stock outstanding during such quarter. Earnings per share of GM $1-2/3 par value common stock are calculated on the consolidated earnings of GM excluding the aggregate earnings attributed to the outstanding shares of Class H common stock.

Class H is a GM Stock with Dividend Payments Linked to the Performance of Hughes

Class H common stock, which is issued by GM, is designed to provide holders with financial returns based on the performance of Hughes and not the performance of any other GM subsidiaries, divisions, or operations. The current dividend policy of the GM Board of Directors is to pay quarterly dividends on Class H common stock at an annual rate equal to approximately 35 percent of the Available Separate Consolidated Net Income of Hughes for the prior year as described herein. The Board may change dividend practices and policies with respect to Class H common stock, or any other class of GM common stock, at any time.

Earnings Attributable to Class H Stock are Not Affected by Hughes Aircraft Company Acquisition Intangibles

The Hughes Consolidated Statement of Income reflects amortization and adjustment of purchase accounting adjustments arising from GM's acquisition of Hughes Aircraft Company in 1985 of $122.3 million in 1996, $159.5 million in 1995 and $123.8 million in 1994. Also, $2.7 billion and $2.8 billion, respectively, of related unamortized intangible assets are included in the December 31, 1996 and 1995 Consolidated Balance Sheet. GM's Certificate of Incorporation provides that, in calculating the amount available for payment of dividends on Class H stock (which amount is also used to calculate the earnings attributable to Class H stock on a per share basis), amortization and adjustment of the excess purchase price for the acquisition of Hughes Aircraft Company will not be charged against the earnings of Hughes. For purposes of calculating the amounts available for payment of dividends on Class H stock and on the $1-2/3 par value stock, amortization and adjustment of such purchase accounting adjustments is charged against the amounts available for the payment of dividends on GM's $1-2/3 par value stock, not the Class H stock. This annual report also provides supplemental data that enables readers to review the financial performance of Hughes, excluding amortization and adjustment of GM purchase accounting adjustments related to Hughes Aircraft Company.
